M'CANDLESS SAYS HE SPENT $6,399

NEW BOARD WILL TACKLE FORT STREET

The new Board of Supervisors will take up the paving of Fort street as one of its first important works, according to the statements of members and the bitulithic matter will be brought up again immediately after the elected members take office, January first.

Eben P. Low, who will probably be chairman of the new road committee, discussed the matter this morning, and declared that he had been studying it. Low said he had been informed that there was another "bitulithic" pavement, practically the same as the one proposed by the company whose contract has been before the board, which was offered at far lower price. This is the pavement which Lord & Young are offering. Low said he proposed to see which pavement was better before making up his mind as to what should be done with Fort street. One plan that has been suggested is an experimental paving of a small section of street, one side with the "bitulithic" company pavement, the opposite side with the other. By choosing a street where there is heavy traffic, considerable knowledge might be gained in five or six months, but it would take at least that long, say those who propose this scheme.

The new board will start its administration with more money than the present board had at the start, according to the present plans and prospects. The wish to leave matters in fine shape financially for the new board was one of the reasons for the final defeat of the bitulithic pavement contract. Another reason for such action, talked of today, was that it would have been saddling a big new contract on the new board, for if the deal had been passed last night, carrying it out would have been the work of the next board.

SUGAR PLANTERS' SECOND SESSION

The members of the Hawaiian Sugar Planters' Association met at their headquarters in the Judd building at 10 o'clock this morning, and got immediately down to business. The new president, Mr. E. D. Tenney, wielded the gavel. Several new faces were in the hall, belated delegates or managers having arrived this morning from the other islands.

Reports took up all of the time of the forenoon and at 11:30 adjournment was taken to 1:30, when other reports were taken up. The reading of these reports is taking a good deal of time, as it has been decided to discuss and dispose of each one as it is reached.

The members of the convention are looking forward with a great deal of interest to the conservation meeting to be held in the old throne room tomorrow afternoon, beginning at two o'clock. The program for this meeting is being arranged by Prof. R. S. Hosmer, superintendent of the government nursery and forestry.

E. H. Wodehouse, W. H. Babbitt and the other members of the committee on banquet have been energetically at work today and have partially made out their program. The banquet will take place in the mauka dining room of the Young hotel on Thursday evening, beginning at 7 o'clock. E. D. Tenney will preside. There will probably be no toasts, except the usual one to the President of the United States.

After the dinner a program will be put on in the makai pavilion. This will consist of music and some rare vaudeville stunts. No local talent will assist in the program, the actors and actresses being drawn from the theaters of the city. One complete turn will be supplied by a popular company appearing at one of the city's show houses.

TODAY'S SESSION.

When President Tenney opened the session this morning, Assistant Secretary Warren read the minutes of yesterday's meetings, after which the report of the experiment station committee was called for.

Mr. Eckart, of the experiment station, read and explained his report. It dealt with the work of the year and made recommendations in regard to

MEXICANS ARE NOT STARTING WAR

(Associated Press Cable to The Star.)

ROCKSPRINGS, Texas, November 15.—The report that a body of Mexicans was on the way here to take revenge for the lynching of a Mexican murderer here has proved untrue. It was due to border threats and rumors, and caused great excitement here. Citizens and cowboys throughout this section of the country armed themselves and assembled in anticipation, and were ready for the Mexicans when news came that there was no party of Mexicans coming. The situation is still tense, owing to high feeling along the border line.

GREAT BRITAIN ELECTION SOON

LONDON, November 15.—Parliament assembled today. A crisis over the veto power of the Lords is impending, and it is anticipated that there will soon be an appeal to the country.

TOLSTOI DYING, HIS WIFE GOES TO HIM

TULA, November 15.—Count Leo Tolstoi is expected to die hourly. The countess, who tried to commit suicide a few days ago as a result of family disagreements, has gone to his bedside.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., November 15.—The American Federation of Labor will formally take up for discussion the proposition of endorsing socialism.

THE UNPAID UNTERRIFIED SIT AND WAIT FOR SIMOLEONS

There are large and silent, but earnest-looking crowds around the Democratic headquarters these days. There were crowds during the campaign, but it was expected that after the votes had been counted they would melt away, according to the rule in such cases provided and usually followed. But they stay,—and the leader, Col. C. J. McCarthy, does not. Nor does Link McCandless bring his campaign smile around.

Col. McCarthy has been as conspicuous by his absence as Roosevelt by his silence, since the fateful November 8. And the reason is said to be found in the anxious, gloomy crowd that sit around the headquarters. It is said that they are runners and other party workers, waiting for the ghost that walkest not. In other words, the Democrats find that the claims of runners run much better than the runners ran, and a lot of them, who didn't run to Treasurer Trent, disburser of the sack, quickly enough, have not been paid.

Col. McCarthy is understood to have formed a tennis cabinet in Makiki, which requires absolutely all of his time. When the deficit showed up, he followed his time-honored custom and dug. McCandless dug,—$1,000, it is said. But still the runners ran, and now no one wants to dig any more.

Unless someone comes to the rescue and satisfies the anxious crowds which wait for a sight of McCandless or McCarthy, there are a lot of Democratic runners seated in the Waverley block these days, who will be unalterably opposed to Free Trade two years from now.

DAMAGES AGAINST THE TUG FEARLESS

BRUNKEN MASTER NOT AN EXCUSE

In the midst of a towing undertaking, the master of the tug ascertained that the master of the tug was intoxicated, but elected to go on with the engagement, which resulted in injury to the tow through the negligence of the master of the tug induced by such intoxication. Held: that the assumption of such risk by the master of the tow, did not relieve the tug from liability, even though, under the circumstances, the tow might possibly have made other arrangements. The same rule applies where a tow, on approaching a hazardous passage, does not signal the tug to stop but assumes the risk of proceeding. From syllabus of Judge Dole's decision.

Judge Dole this morning rendered his decision in the case of Pope &

Talbot, et al., v. the "Fearless" etc., libelee, J. D. Spreckels & Bros., Co., claimant. On March 5, 1906, the dredger Pacific was operating in the entrance channel of the Honolulu harbor near the west side. On that afternoon between four and half past four, the Mary E. Foster, with a cargo of sugar cast off from a wharf in the inner harbor and was taken in tow by the Fearless for the open sea. Upon starting to tow the Mary E. Foster, the Fearless blew four whistles and, no reply being made by the dredger, blew four more when near the lighthouse, which were immediately answered by four whistles from the dredger. The Fearless then, at a speed of from six to

ROOSEVELT HEARD FROM

(Special Cable to The Star.) NEW YORK, November 15.—Colonel Roosevelt in an Outlook editorial today says that he stands by his declarations in the famous Ossawatimie address, which he made shortly before the campaign began. He says his opinions are unchanged, and that he will continue in the fight for progressive popular government and expects that those principles will continue in the those principles will ultimately be triumphant.

COOPER ACQUITTED.

(Special Cable to The Star.) NASHVILLE, Tennessee, November 15.—Robin Cooper has been acquitted of the murder of former Senator Carmack. The murder grew out of a political controversy, the Coopers, father and son, shooting Carmack on a public street.

GUTHRIE CAPITAL.

GUTHRIE, Oklahoma, November 15.—The Supreme Court has decided the controversy as to the location of the state capital in favor of this city.

The details of McCandless' expenses are: Nomination fee $25, printing and advertising $713, expenses of public meetings $120.50, traveling expenses $1,110 and personal expenses $4,430. HONOLULU TO BE CROWDED TENTS FOR VISITORS AFTER ALL THE HOTELS ARE FULL

Some of the visitors in Honolulu during the Floral Parade week in February will probably have to be sheltered in tents, judging by the present prospects. The hotels will all be crowded, and so will the boarding and rooming houses, and arrangements will probably be made to have tents ready, for any overflow that may occur.

There will be three excursions here at the time of the big parade and Elks' Carnival, and Honolulu will be pretty full of visitors aside from the excursionists. It is expected that a large number of the visitors, especially Shriners, will be received as guests in private houses.

NEW RICE MILL.

The K. Yamamoto Rice Mill is the largest as well as the finest in the islands. All machinery is of the very latest pattern. The famous Tengu Rice is cleaned at this mill. With the large cleaning capacity they are able to handle considerable out-side particular work which they guarantee.

Chun Fook, who was before the Federal Court yesterday charged with having attempted to smuggle opium into the Territory, was acquitted.

The three excursions will go to Hilo and the volcano first, but the schedules are arranged so that they will be there on different dates. Hilo, however, will be well crowded by one of the excursions at a time, and private accommodations will have to be found for some.

One of the heavy jobs now on the hands of the Promotion Committee is to see that there are adequate arrangements here for proper accommodations of the tourists and excursionists who are coming. The success of the Promotion campaign has reached the stage where accommodation of visitors in tents is planned.
